

Smith Signal

In the first suit played by director, each defender signals their attitude to the initial lead (unless they need to play an honor or signal count).

The signal can be played high encouraging, low discouraging; upside down; or with opening leader playing one way and third hand the opposite.

Submitted by Bill Kent